

Bijlage E behorende bij de Regeling Luchtwaardigheid van Luchtvaartuigen

5.4.1.8 APPLICATION/RENEWAL OF STANDARD CERTIFICATES OF AIRWORTHINESS

(b) The application for a Certificate of Airworthiness must be done using an application form which is available at the Directorate of Civil Aviation. The application will not be dealt with as long as the applicant has not settled the amount due. Amount due will be for:

(1) issuing or renewal of an Certificate of Airworthiness, the amount of ANG 200 increased with ANG 100, for each 1000 kilograms or part there of by which the maximum takeoff weight of the aircraft surpasses 1000 kilograms.;

(2) reissue of a Certificate of Airworthiness: the amount of ANG 100.

(c) The amount due is deposited on the bank account of the Directorate of Civil Aviation providing the necessary references and descriptions. The Directorate of Civil Aviation shall provide a receipt after the payment.

(d) If the validity of the Certificate of Airworthiness is suspended or revoked or based on the investigation by the Director can be concluded that through fault of the applicant an evaluation of the airworthiness could not be performed, the amount deposited will not be refunded.

(e) The expenses and risks related to the evaluation of the airworthiness of an aircraft are for the account of the applicant, excluding the expenses and risks for the person(s) assigned for this evaluation by the Government.

(f) If for this evaluation the Government employee in question must perform his duties in a foreign country, the travel and accommodation expenses for said person will be on applicants account. In this case the travel and accommodation allowances established by the Government will be used