

An aerial photograph of a road intersection. A pink diamond-shaped marker is placed on the road surface, and a green rectangular marker is placed on the adjacent road surface. The background shows a dark, textured road surface and some surrounding greenery.

A schematic diagram of a building layout. The layout consists of several interconnected rectangular and polygonal rooms. A pink square is located in the upper-middle section, and a green rectangle is located in the lower-middle section. The rooms are outlined with black lines, and some areas are filled with light gray. The overall shape of the building is irregular, with various sized rooms and corridors.
