

An aerial photograph of a suburban neighborhood. The map shows a grid of streets, numerous houses, and green spaces. A black rectangle is drawn over a central portion of the map, highlighting a specific residential block. The highlighted area contains several houses and a small, light-colored rectangular feature, possibly a field or a large lawn. The surrounding area includes more houses, some larger commercial or institutional buildings, and a prominent road or highway running diagonally across the lower part of the image.
